Technology in your home

Armstrong helps you build or remodel a home for the future

When building or remodeling a home, don't forget to take advantage of all the new technology available to you.

Making your home hi-tech use to involve wiring for hi-speed and entertainment system. Now, utilizing technology is not only for entertainment, but much more. Here are a few of the benefits of going hi-tech in your home.

Energy Management—There are now many energy management devices and systems that will let you see your usage in real time! No more waiting for the utility bills to see if you have conserved energy. Here is a link to an article which tests out one of these monitors.

Security—Having an IP security system included on your home network allows you to protect your home remotely. In the past, it may have been difficult to find a wired computer to access your security system. But, now with wi-fi and cell phone apps, it is very easy to keep your home secure from afar.

Home Control— There are many touch screen products that allow you to control temp., curtains, music, tv, lights, etc. Here is a link to one of these products that will make your home more efficient and really give it a high tech feel.

Entertainment—Don't forget your basic entertainment upgrades! Control your DVR remotely with a home network, listen to streaming radio and internet TV. Who knows what will be next!

Let Armstrong work with you to design these systems into your current or future home! If you have any questions or comments, please contact us via the web, or email me at:
